IN MEMORIAM.

BY EUGENE BERTRAM.

"Pain and sorrow shall vanish before us,
Youth may wither, but feeling will last."—MOORE.

I.

Wild melodies dance through my brain;
The shadows fall across my way:
The darkness gathers—and my pain
Grows deeper with each closing day.
No more the willows by the brook,
Wave gently in the stirring air—
I cannot raise my eyes to look,
And see the desolation there.

II.

I hear no more the tender voice
Of Laura, by that crystal stream,
Where oft we wandered, when her eyes
Shone on me with their gentlest beam.
No more she answers to my call,
As erst she did in days gone by—
She learned, alas! to know my shame,
And sadly laid her down to die.

III.

Her ashes rest beneath the tree
Where oft her ruby lips I pressed;
Her dying words were breathed of me—
My guilt she knew, though ne'er confessed.
No more the sounds of sweetness fall,
That cheered me ere she ceased to breathe,
No more she'll heed the guilty call,
That oft in smiles her face did wreath.

IV.

She's gone, alas! as fades the dream;
But still her face and form I see;
And still the spot I'll ne'er forget
Where first she gave her heart to me.
No more, to tell me of her love,
She'll whisper in my guilty ear—
No more, alas! her vows to prove,
Shed on my breast the crystal tear.

V.

Sad melodies dance through my brain;
The shadows fall across my way,
The darkness gathers—and my pain
Grows deeper with each closing day.
No more the willows by the brook,
Wave gently in the stirring air—
I cannot raise my eyes to look,
And see the desolation there.

SELECT TALE.

THE IRON VAULT.

A TALE OF A SAN FRANCISCO LOCKSMITH.

I am a locksmith by trade. My calling is a strange one, and possesses a certain fascination rendering it one of the most agreeable pursuits. Many who follow it see nothing but labor—think of nothing in it but its returns of gold or silver. To me it has other charms than the money it produces. I am called upon, almost daily, to open doors and peer into long neglected apartments; to spring stubborn locks of safes, and gloat upon treasures piled within, to quietly enter the apartments of ladies with more beauty than discretion, and pick the locks of drawers containing peace-destroying missives that the dangerous evidences of wandering affection may not reach the eye of a husband, or father, in possession of the missing key; to force the fastenings of cash boxes, and depositories of records, telling of men made rich, of corporations plundered, of orphans robbed, of families ruined. Is there no charm in all this?—no food for speculation—no scope for the range of pleasant fancy? Then who would not be a locksmith, though his face is begrimed with the soot of the forge, and his hands are stained with rust?

But I have a story to tell—not exactly a story either—for a story implies the completion as well as the beginning of a narrative—and mine is scarcely the introduction to one. Let him who deals in things of fancy do the rest. In the spring of 1856—I think it was in April—I opened a little shop on Kearney street, and soon worked myself into a fair business. Late one evening, a lady, closely veiled, entered my shop, and pulling from beneath a cloak a small japanned box, requested me to open it. The lock was curiously constructed, and I was all of an hour fitting it. The lady seemed nervous at the delay, and at length requested me to shut the door. I was a little surprised at the suggestion, but of course complied. Shutting the door and returning to my work, the lady withdrew her veil, and disclosed as sweet a face as can be imagined. There was a restlessness in her eye and a pallor in the cheek which told a heart ill at ease, and in a moment every emotion for her had given place to that of pity.

"Perhaps you are not well, madame, and the night air is too chilly?" said I, rather inquisitively.

I felt a rebuke in her reply: "In requesting you to close the door, I had no other object than to escape the attention of the passers."

I did not reply, but thoughtfully continued my work. She resumed—

"That little box contains valuable papers, and I have lost the key, or it has been stolen. I should not wish to have you to remember that I ever came here on such an errand," she continued, with some hesitation, and giving me a look which was no difficult matter to understand.

"Certainly, madame, if you desire it. If I cannot forget your face, I will at least attempt to lose the recollection of ever seeing it here."

The lady bowed rather coldly at what I considered a fine compliment, and I proceeded with my work, satisfied that a suddenly discovered partiality for me had nothing to do with the visit. Having succeeded, after much filing and fitting, in turning the lock, I was seized with a curiosity to get a glimpse at the precious contents of the box, and suddenly raising the lid, discovered a bundle of letters and a daguerreotype, as I slowly passed the casket to its owner. She seized it hurriedly, and placing the letters and pictures in her pocket, locked the box, and drawing the veil over her face, pointed to the door. I opened it, and as she passed into the street she merely whispered, "Remember!" We met again, and I have been thus particular in describing her visit to the shop, to render probable a subsequent recognition.

About two o'clock one morning, in the latter part of May following, I was awoke by a gentle tap on the window of a little room back of the shop, in which I lodged. Thinking of burglars, I sprang out of bed, and in a moment was at the window with a heavy hammer in my hand, which I usually kept at that time within convenient reach of my bedside.

"Who's there?" I inquired, raising the hammer and peering out into the darkness—for it was as dark as Egypt when under the curse of Israel's God.

"Hist!" exclaimed the figure stepping in front of the window; "open the door; I have business with you."

'Rather past business hours, I should say; but who are you?"

"No one that would harm you," returned the voice which I imagined was rather feminine for a burglar.

"Nor one that can!" I replied rather emphatically, as a warning, as I tightened my grip on the hammer, and proceeded to the door. I pushed back the bolt, and slowly opening the door, discovered the stranger already on the steps.

"What do you want?" I abruptly inquired.

"I will tell you," answered the same soft voice, if you dare to open the door wide enough for me to enter."

"Come in," said I, throwing the door ajar, and proceeding to light a candle. Having succeeded, I turned to examine the visitor.—He was a small and neatly dressed gentleman, with a heavy Raglan round his shoulders and a blue navy cap drawn suspiciously over his eyes As I advanced toward him, he seemed to hesitate a moment, then raised the cap from his forehead, and looked me curiously in the face. I did not drop the candle, but I acknowledge to a little nervousness as I hurriedly placed the light upon a table, and silently proceeded to invest myself with two or three articles of clothing. As the Lord liveth, my visitor was a lady, and the same for whom I had opened the little box about a month before! Having completed my hasty toilet, I attempted to stammer an apology for my rudeness, but utterly failed. The fact is, I was confounded.

Smiling at my discomfiture, she said—

"Disguise is useless; I presume you know me?"

"I believe I told you, madam, I should not forget your face. In what way can I serve you?"

"By doing a half an hour's work before daylight to-morrow and receiving five hundred dollars for your labor," was the reply.

"Is it not ordinary work," said I, inquiringly, "that commands so munificent compensation."

"It is a labor common to your call," returned the lady. "The price is not so much for the labor as the condition under which it must be performed."

"And what is the condition?" I inquired.

"That you will submit to being conveyed from and returned to your own door, blindfolded."

Ideas of murder, burglary, and almost every other crime known to villany, hurriedly presented themselves in succession as I politely bowed and said—

"I must understand something more of the character of the employment, as well as the conditions, to accept your offer."

"Will not five hundred dollars answer in lieu of any explanation?" she inquired.

"No, nor five thousand."

She patted her foot nervously on the floor.—I could see she had placed entirely too low an estimate on my honesty, and I felt some gratification in being able to convince her of the fact.

"Well, then, if it is absolutely necessary for me to explain," she replied, "I must tell you that you are required to pick the lock of a vault, and—"

"You have gone quite far enough, madame, with the explanation," I interrupted; "I am not at your service."

"As I said," she continued, you are required to pick the lock of a vault, and rescue from death a man who has been confined there for three days."

"To whom does the vault belong?" I inquired.

"My husband," was the somewhat reluctant reply.

"Then why so much secrecy?"—or rather, how came a man in such a place?"

"I secreted him there, to escape the observation of my husband. He suspected as much and closed the door upon him. Presuming he had left the vault and quitted the house by the back door, I did not dream, until to-day, that he was confined there. Certain suspicious acts of my husband, this afternoon convinced me that the man is there beyond human hearing, and will be starved to death by my barbarous husband unless immediately rescued. For three days he has not left the house. I drugged him less than an hour ago, and he is now so completely stupified that the lock may be picked without his interference. I have searched his pockets, and cannot find the key; hence my application to you. Now you know all; will you accompany us?"

"To the end of the world, madame, on such an errand."

"Then prepare yourself, there is a cab waiting at the door."

I was a little surprised, for I had not heard the sound of the wheels. Hastily drawing on a coat and providing myself with the requisite implements, I was soon at the door. There, sure enough, was a cab, with the driver in his seat, ready for the mysterious journey—I entered the vehicle followed by the lady. As soon as I was seated she produced a heavy handkerchief which by the faint light of a street lamp, she carefully bound round my eyes. The lady seated herself beside me, and the cab started. In half an hour the vehicle stopped—in what part of the city I am entirely ignorant as it was evidently driven in anything but a direct course from the point of starting.

Examining the banding, to see that my vision was completely obscured, the lady handed me the bundle of tools with which I was provided, then taking me by the arm, led me through a gate into a house which I knew was brick and after taking me along a passage way that could not have been less than fifty feet in length, and down a flight of stairs into what was evidently an underground basement, stopped beside a vault; removed the handkerchief from my eyes.

"Here is the vault; open it," said she, springing the door of a dark lantern, and throwing a beam upon the lock.

I seized a bunch of skeleton keys, and after a few trials, which the lady seemed to watch with the most intense anxiety, sprung the bolt. The door swung upon its hinges, and my companion, telling me not to close it, as it was self-locking, sprung into the vault. I did not follow. I heard the murmur of low voices within, and the next moment the lady re-appeared, and leaning upon her arm was a man so pale and haggard that I started at the sight. How he must have suffered during the three long days of his confinement in that terrible vault!

"Remain here," she said, handing me the lantern; "I will be back in a moment."

The two slowly ascended the stairs, and I heard them enter immediately above where I was standing. In less than a minute the lady returned.

"Shall I close it madame?" said I placing my hand upon the door of the vault.

"No! no!" she exclaimed hastily, seizing my arm; "it awaits another occupant!"

"Madame, you certainly do not intend to—"

"Are you ready?" she interrupted, holding the handkerchief before my eyes. The thought flashed across my mind that she intended to push me into the vault and bury me and my secret together. She seemed to read the suspicion, and continued: "Do not be alarmed; you are not the man!"

I could not mistake the truth of the fearful meaning of the remark, and I shuddered as I bent my head to the handkerchief. My eyes were as carefully bandaged as before, and I was led to the cab, and thence driven home by a more circuitous route, if possible than the one by which we came. A purse of five hundred dollars was placed in my hand, and in a moment the cab and its mysterious occupant had turned a corner and were out of sight.

I entered the shop, and the purse of gold was the only evidence I could summon, in my bewilderment, that all I had just done and witnessed was not a dream.

A month after that saw the lady and the gentleman taken from the vault, leisurely walking along Montgomery street. I do not know, but I believe the sleeping husband awoke within that vault, and his bones are there to-day! The wife is still a resident of San Francisco.

GREELY IN 1850.

In 1850, when the danger to the country on the slavery question was nothing to what it is now, Horace Greely, through his Tribune, said:

"We are willing to COMPROMISE, and take half our right, rather than continue a controversy from which we can anticipate no good, but apprehend much evil.

Now, in 1861, when the dangers to the country are more imminent and alarming than at any former period, and may be removed by conciliation and compromise, the same Greely vociferates for "no compromise!"

WRITING TO THE LORD.—An exchange states that at the breaking of ground for the commencement of the Lynchburg and Tennessee Railroad, at Lynchburg, a clergyman slowly and solemnly read a manuscript prayer, at the conclusion of which an old negro man, who had been resting with one foot on his spade, and his arms on the handle, looking intently in the chaplain's face, straightened himself up, and remarked very audibly, "Well, I reckon dat's de fust time de Lord's eber bin writ to on de subject ob railroads."

MISCELLANEOUS.

SPEAKING HIS MIND.

Old Deacon Hobhouse had a habit of frequently thinking aloud. Especially if any matter troubled him, he had to talk it over with himself before his peace of mind could be restored. One day he was alone in his barn, pitching hay from the scaffold to the mow, when his neighbor Stevens went to find him. Stevens heard a voice and listened. It was the deacon, talking to himself. He was condemning, in the strongest terms, the extravagance of the minister's wife.

"She sets a worse example than Satan!" exclaimed the deacon by way of climax.

And having freed his mind, he was preparing to come down from the loft, when Stevens glided out of the barn, and came in again just as the deacon landed on the floor.

"How d'e do, deacon?" cried Stevens—"I want to borrow your half-bushel an hour or two."

"Oh, sartin, sartin," said the deacon.

The measure was put into the neighbor's hands and he departed.

It was a peaceful community,—the minister's wife was an excellent woman, notwithstanding her love of finery, and Deacon Hobhouse was of all men the least disposed to make trouble in the society. Hence the sensation which was produced when the report circulated that he had used almost blasphemous language in speaking of that amiable lady. The sweetest tempered lady would not like to hear of a grave, influential deacon declaring that "She sets a worse example than Satan!" The minister's wife, whose ear was in due time reached by the report, felt in a high degree incensed, and sent her husband to deal with the honest old man.

The latter was astonished when told of the grave charge against him.

"I never said so!" he solemnly averred.

"You are quite positive that you never did?" said the messenger.

"Heaven knows! It is as false as can be!" exclaimed the deacon. "Whatever thoughts I may have had about your wife's extravagance—and I am now free to think she has set our wives and daughters a running after new bonnets, shawls, and such vanities—whatever thoughts I've had though, I've kept them to myself; I never mentioned 'em to a living soul, never!"

The good man's earnestness quite convinced the minister that he had been falsely reported. It was therefore necessary to dig to the root of the scandal. Mrs. Brown, who told the minister's wife, had heard Mrs. Jones say that Mr. Adams said that Deacon Hobhouse said so; Mr. Adams, being applied to stated that he had the report from Stevens, who said he had heard the deacon say so. Stevens was accordingly brought up for examination, and confronted with the deacon.

"It's an outrageous falsehood!" said the deacon. "You know, Stevens, that I never opened my lips to you on the subject—nor to any other man."

"I heard you say," remarked Stevens, coolly, "that the minister's wife sets a worse example than Satan; and I can take my oath of it."

"Where? where?" demanded the excited deacon.

"In your barn," replied Stevens, "when I went to borrow your half-bushel."

"There never was such a lie! Stevens—Stevens," said the quivering deacon—"you know ——"

"Wait till I explain," interrupted Stevens. "I was on the barn-floor, you was up on the scaffold pitching hay, and talking to yourself. I thought it too good to keep; so, just for the joke, I told what I heard you say."

The deacon scratched his head, looked humbled, and admitted that he might, in that way, have used the language attributed to him. To avoid trouble in the society, he afterwards went to apologise to the minister's wife.

"You must consider," said he, "that I was talking to myself; and when I talk to myself, am apt to speak my mind very freely."

MR. LINCOLN'S HOTEL BILL AT ALBANY.

The "high old time" "Old Abe" and his suite enjoyed during the trip from Springfield to Washington, may be inferred from the following bill for one day spent at the Delavan House, Albany:

DELAVAN HOUSE, Albany, Feb. 1861.

The State of New York:

To T. ROESSELE & SON. Dr.

One day's board of Hon. A. Lincoln and suite, parlors, dinners and breakfast in parlor,	$576 50
Wines and liquors,	357 00
Segars,	16 00
Telegraphs,	1 13
Congress Water, $2 50; baggage, $1 87,	7 37
Carriages,	12 00
Sundry broken articles—stoves, chairs, etc.,	150 00
Total,	$1,120 00

There were eighteen persons in the party, which is an average of nine bottles a head.—Says the Post:

"We are not surprised, after such drinking, at a considerable charge for Congress water.—Neither is it wonderful that the breakages for stoves, chairs and so forth, were set down at a hundred and fifty dollars. Fellows with nine bottles of liquor under their belts must have been in a state to break everything about them, even their own necks."

A FAIRY TALE WITH A MORAL.

There was once a poor woman, and she had no dearer wish, than once, by accident or a miracle, to obtain a great deal of money, because she believed that if she only had money all sorrow and suffering would be as good as gone.

The accident and the miracle did not happen for a long time, however, till the woman one day heard that on the slope of a hill there grew among other grass, a weed—and if any one were so fortunate as to pluck it, the mountain would open, the plucker would walk into a large cave, at which sat seven men round a table, who would allow her to take away as much of their treasure as she could carry.

From this moment the poor woman had nothing more pressing to do, than to fetch hill grass daily during the summer for her cow, because she hoped to pluck the miraculous weed among it. And so she did; one day the woman had again collected grass, carried the heavy basket on her head, and led her little daughter by the hand, when a large rock opened noiselessly before her like a well oiled door, and allowed her to see into the cave, where seven old men with long beards were sitting round a table, and piles of gold and silver were heaped around them.

The woman naturally took advantage of the opportunity, emptied her basket upon the ground and filled it with gold. When this was done, and she was going out, one of the old men kindly said, "Woman, forget not the best thing," but she did not listen, and went off.

But she had scarcely reached the end of the cave, when the rock closed again, and shut in the woman's little daughter who had remained behind playing with the gold. Then the mother's grief and agony were great; she ran lamenting to the clergyman, and told him what had occurred. The latter said she must wait another seven years, till she could find her daughter again; after that period, she must go again to the mountain at the same hour in which she lost her child, and wait for what might happen, but she made a grand mistake in quite emptying her basket for the sake of gold, because the miracle weed was among the grass she threw away. Now she remembered the old man's words, and learned to her sorrow that she had done wrong to consider wealth as the highest blessing. How slightly she now valued the gold she brought home, when she had to pay for it by the tears of her child! She thought further, and found that there are many blessings in the world, which if lost reduce the value of gold to nothing.—This and many other things the poor rich woman had time to reflect on during the seven years, and, to her honor be it said, that till the expiration of that time, she would not look at or handle the gold. At length the day came on which she hoped to find her child again.—The woman hurried to the hill in the neighborhood of the rock where her child was shut up; and see there! from a distance she perceived the treasure of her heart, her child, sleeping in front of the rock; it was young and blooming as when she lost it. She lifted it tenderly, and kissed it a thousand times with tears, on the road home, thinking, "If all the gold were out of my room, I should be as happy as if I had found all the treasure in the world!"

But the gold was not gone; and so she was grateful for that, and enjoyed the advantage of wealth, and spent much on the good education of her daughter, and thus the well trained maiden became a great and invaluable treasure.

HOW NOT TO CORRECT A FAULT.

"Well, Sarah, I declare! you are the worst girl that I know of in the whole country!"

"Why mother, what have I done?"

"See there! how you have spilled water in my pantry! Get out of my sight; I cannot bear to look upon you—you careless girl!"

"Well mother, I couldn't help it."

This conversation I recently overheard between a mother and her daughter. Mrs. A. the mother, is a very worthy woman, but very ignorant of the art of family government. Sarah, her daughter, is a heedless girl of about ten years old. She is very much accustomed to remove things out of their proper places, and seldom stops to put them in again. On the occasion referred to above, she had been sent to put water into the tea-kettle, and had very carelessly spilled a considerable portion of it on the pantry floor. After the above conversation, which, on the part of the mother, sounded almost like successive claps of thunder on the ears of her daughter, Sarah escaped, in a pouting manner, into an adjoining room, and her mother wiped up the slop in the pantry.

Well, thought I, my dear Mrs. A., if that is the way you treat your daughter, you will probably find it necessary to wipe after her a great many times more, if you both live.—Such family government as is here set forth seems to me to be liable to several serious objections.

The reproof was too boisterous. Children can never be frightened into a knowledge of error, or into conviction of crime. It is their judgment and their taste for neatness and order which need training and not their ears.

It was too unreasonable. The child was, indeed, careless, but she had done nothing to merit the title of "the worst girl in the country." Children are sensible of injustice, and very soon find it difficult to respect those who unjustly treat them.

It was too passionate. The mother seemed to be boiling over with displeasure and disgust; and under this excitement she despised her darling child—the very same that, in a short time afterward when the storm had blown by, she was ready to embrace in her arms, as almost the very image of perfection.

It was inefficient. Sarah retired, under the idea that her mother was excited for a very little thing, which she could not help. Thus she blamed her mother, and acquitted herself.

SELECT POETRY.

[It is not often that the name of Stephen A. Douglas is connected in our minds with literature, or anything outside of the fierce contentions of the political arena; but here is a poetical effusion which is credited to him.]

BURY ME IN THE MORNING.

BY STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

Bury me in the morning, mother—
O let me have the light
Of one bright day on my grave, mother,
Ere you leave me alone with the night;
Alone in the night of the grave, mother,
'Tis a thought of terrible fear—
And you will be here, alone, mother,
And stars will be shining here;
So bury me in the morning mother,
And let me have the light
Of one bright day on my grave, mother,
Ere I'm alone with the night.

You tell of the Savior's love, mother,
I feel it is in my heart—
But oh! from this beautiful world, mother,
'Tis hard for the young to part;
Forever to part, when here mother,
The soul is fain to stay;
For the grave is deep and dark, mother,
And heaven seems far away.
Then bury me in the morning, mother,
And let me have the light
Of one bright day on my grave, mother,
Ere I'm alone with the night.

"NOBODY HURT."

A private letter from an extensive manufacturer of Providence, R. I., to a gentleman in Richmond, Va., has the following:

"The condition of affairs here is awful. No sales of goods or any thing else—no value to personal or real estate. Confidence extinguished; everybody waiting for the fourth of March. If relief does not come, then mills must be unemployed; business men must succumb; unemployed business men must succumb; universal desolation must prevail. What terrible responsibility party men have assumed in pursuit of the nigger chimera."

DID MASSACHUSETTS EVER SECEDE?

Certainly she did. On the 26th of March, 1845, the Legislature of Massachusetts passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That Massachusetts hereby refuses to acknowledge the act of the Government of the United States authorizing the admission of Texas as a legal act in any way binding her from using her utmost exertions for co-operation with other States, by every lawful and constitutional measure, to annul its conditions and defeat its accomplishment.

HOME COURTESIES.—A correspondent gives us this experience:

"I am one of those whose lot in life has been to go out into an unfriendly world at an early age; and of nearly twenty families in which I made my home in the course of about nine years, there were only three or four that could be properly designated as happy families, and the source of trouble was not so much the lack of love as lack of care to manifest it." The closing words of this sentence give us the fruitful source of family alienations, of heart aches innumerable, of sad faces and gloomy home circles. "Not so much the lack of love as lack of care to manifest it." What a world of misery is suggested by this brief remark! Not over three or four happy families in twenty, and the cause so manifest, and so easily remedied! And in the "small, sweet courtesies of life," what power resides! In a look, a word, a tone, how much of happiness or disquietude may be communicated. Think of it, reader, and take the lesson home with you.

PAT BETTERING HIS INSTRUCTIONS.—A lady and gentleman recently married, in the neighborhood of Nottingham, left home in their own carriage for a bridal tour among the Cumberland lakes. In order to avoid the curiosity attracted by persons in the honeymoon the gentleman gave his Irish footman the strictest charge not to tell any one on the road that they were newly married, and threatening to dismiss him instantly if he did. Pat promised implicit obedience; but on leaving the first inn on the road, next morning, the happy couple were much astonished and annoyed to find the servants all assembled, and pointing to the gentleman, mysteriously exclaiming, "That's him; that's the man." On reaching the next stage, the indignant master told Murphy he must immediately discharge him, as he had divulged what he impressed upon him as a secret.—"Plase your honour," says Pat, "what is it you complain of?"—"You rascal" exclaimed the angry master, "you told the servants at the inn last night that we were a newly married couple." "Och, then, be this and be that," said Pat, brightening up in anticipated triumph, "there's not a word of truth in it, yer honour; sure I tould the whole kit of them, servants and all, that you wouldn't be married for a fortnight yet!"

MR. BUCHANAN'S AUTHORSHIP.—The Historical Magazine says:

Since it is announced that Mr. Buchanan will favor the public, after his retirement from office, with a series of sketches of men eminent in political life, of whom there has heretofore been no fitting memorial, it may not be a violation of any confidence to say that it is believed he will undertake a more formal work with regard to President Polk.

....We refer our readers to the advvertisement of Messrs. Mair & Davison dealers in Saddlery and Trimmings, Pittsburg, which will be found in this week's Gazette. Their house is the oldest and largest in Pittsburg, and we can recommend their stock as not to be surpassed anywhere.

....The line of coaches betwen this place and Hollidaysburg has been purchased by Thomas C. Reighard and the fare reduced to $2.50. Mr. Reighard will shortly make great improvements on his accommodations of travel.

....GRADUATED.—At the recent Commencement of the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, the degreee of Doctor of Medicine was conferred upon 187 gentlemen, students of that institution. Among the names of the graduates we find that of Dr. James D. Noble, of this county. We learn that Dr. N. passed a very creditable examination.

....The influence of the nominal editor of the Inquirer is powerful, indeed. His candidate for the Post office, though a worthy young man, received but seven votes. It seems that the candidate for whom he takes a stand, is invariably doomed to be defeated.

....What is the difference between par and current funds, on a note of $71? Is it $1.75, Gazette ?—Inquirer.

At present (discount being at 2 per cent) it would be $1.42. When your famous shave was made, discount was 2½ per cent, and then it would have been $1.77. Did you ever hear of a branch of study called Arithmetic ?

DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPHS.—The Democrats elect two of the four Congressmen in Connecticut. In the last Congress, the whole delegation was "Republican." The "Repulicans" elect the Governor.—The Anti-Republican ticket has been elected in St. Louis, by 3000 majority, a Republican loss of 5000 !—The whole Democratic ticket is successful in Cleveland, Ohio.

The Question of Abandoning Fort Pickens.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—the reports in regard to reinforcing Fort Pickens, it is now apparent, were put out for the sole purpose of helping the Republican cause in Connecticut and Rhode Island. No such orders have been issued, or been contemplated. I reiterate my despatch of some days since, that within a very short period Fort Pickens will be evacuated. It is even now a matter of almost impossibility to land supplies there, and by the end of next week the administration will find that it cannot make the attempt, much less succeed.

The Texas State Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30, 1861.—The Texas State Convention ratified the Constitution of the Southern Confederacy with but two dissenting voices.

The Convention adjourned sine die on the 25th instant, without referring the question of the adoption of the Constitution to the people.

Governor Houston's and Representative Hamilton's efforts at opposition have proved an entire failure.

All is now quiet in Texas.

Why Doesn't he Hang Them ?

When the Commissioners from South Carolina waited upon President BUCHANAN, the Republicans cried out with one accord, hang them ! hang them !—pronouncing all sorts of anathemas against Mr. Buchanan for suffering them to go unhung. There is a trite, simple, but true saying that "what is sauce for the goose, is sauce for the gander." If Buchanan ought to have hung the South Carolina Commissioners, ought not Lincoln treat the Commissioners from the Southern Confederacy in the same manner ? Come, now, ye flawpicking, fault-finding Republican critics, is this not so ? Chop us a little of your logic on this subject, please !

Lincoln's Popularity.

The Portland Courier, a Black Republican paper, speaking of the proposed surrender of Fort Sumter, says :

"The depth of infamy to which even James Buchanan dared not descend, it appears, is reserved for Abraham Lincoln to sound."

Another Republican paper gives vent to its indignation in this style :

"A Government so cowardly, so craven, has sunk itself beneath the respect of a brave and loyal people, and the quicker it is dead and buried out of the way of sight and smell, the better. Oh, for an hour of James Buchanan !"

Says the Reading Gazette :

'It is reported that the Wide Awakes of Wilkes-Barre burned their caps and capes, and broke their lamps on the Public Square, on Wednesday night last, to express their indignation at 'Old Abe' to give up Fort Sumter."

Alas ! Poor Abe ! Thy short-lived glory faded like the summer rainbow, and black and lowering clouds hang where thy bow of promise stood.

A Combined French and English Fleet for the United States.

The news that the French and English Governments are fitting out "a powerful fleet of war steamers for the United States," excites much curiosity and speculation. The Paris correspondent of the New York Times says that the suggestion came from England—that France will furnish three first class new frigates, and that the English contingent will perhaps be no smaller. The precise object of this fleet is not known, and it will probably sail with sealed orders. The Times' correspondent says :—

"We may surmise, however, that it is intended as an audience for the struggle which is soon to take place between brothers and friends in the United States—as a sort of escort of honor for the funeral of the Great Republic. The idea is said to have been provoked in the English Cabinet by the indignities offered to a British subject or subjects in the Southern States. We dot suppose, of course, that the fleet goes out with any hostile intent ; its ostensible errand will be the protection of English and French subjects. But it is the custom to send fleets "of observation" when any great war is going on in a foreign country and while observing, to pick up any little advantage that may offer for themselves ; or when the sympathy of the fleet is all on one side, to send boats now and then accidently between the contending forces, as England has twice done in the late Sicilian war, so as to protect a suffering friend at the right moment.

"Spain, also, although not working in concert with France and England, is preparing to send to the waters of the Gulf of Mexico a formidable force in men, ships and material."

It is needless to venture any speculations as to the object of this movement. Everything in regard to it will be revealed in time. Unless the Republicans change their miserable policy and do something to bind our country together in the bonds of fraternal affection, we may expect all manner of startling occurrences, not unattended with an abundance of humiliation.—Pennsylvanian.

SECESSION IN VIRGINIA.—The opinion is gradually gaining ground in Virginia that Lincoln and Seward are playing double with the border States, and hence the secession feeling is said to be greatly on the increase. Colonel Barbour, Superintendent of the United States Armory at Harper's Ferry, all along a staunch anti-secessionist, has come out strongly for secession, and tendered his resignation to the War Department. Mr. Summers has also telegraphed to Lincoln that after a careful count, it has been ascertained that only three votes are wanting in the Virginia Convention to pass a secession ordinance. This intelligence, it is said, has created great excitement among the Republicans at Washington. Thus far, it is a significant fact that the "Republicans" have not made a single concession from their declared lines of policy, have not abated a jot of their declaration to carry out the Chicago platform. In this respect, it must be confessed, they have shown pluck, much more than many of the border States, which first announced they would take nothing less than the Crittenden amendments, but since have shown a disposition to yield more. Mr. Lincoln, it is said, has despatched a messenger to Richmond, and, we suppose, if a liberal supply of offices is wanted to keep Virginia straight, she can get them.—Phila. Argus.

HEAL THE SICK.—Diseases of the Bowels and Stomach are always caused by large deposits of hurtful matter, left by impure blood in those important organs, and the poisonous material in this vitiated blood, acting on the system, makes it too weak to throw off this matter by the natural channels, or if any is carried off it is a very small portion. So arise diarrhœa and dysentery, colic, costiveness, bad breath, indigestion, nausea, loss of appetite, belching of wind of stomach, etc. To cure all these "the blood is the life," and must be perfectly pure and clean, then you cannot be sick. A short use of JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS will delight you. You will feel with surprise their mighty power, and be willing to say with the red men of the west, truly they are the "mighty healer." Sold by all medicine Dealers.

NOTICE.—All persons interested, are hereby notified that the undersigned, administrator of the Estate of Joseph Weyandt, late of Union Township, dec'd., will apply to the next Orphans' Court, to be held at Bedford. April 29th, 1861, for a discharge from his said office.

FAITHFUL MINISTERS OF HEALTH.—In examining the vessels at the various wharves we find among the curiosities of our commerce the brig Miranda, just in from Truxillo with a cargo of Honduras Sarsaparilla for Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell. So particular are this firm as to the articles used in compounding their various remedies, that they have this drug, like some others they consume, gathered for them by a skilful agent of their own in the tropical regions of its growth. He informs us that there are many species of this plant, but two of which are really valuable in medicine ; the qualities of these are also affected by the time of gathering, mode of curing, etc., operations which in that region of unreliable workmen imposes a heavy labor upon him. One of the inert varieties of Sarsaparilla grows wild in four forests, while several others, nearly worthless, abound in Central and South America. The intelligent agent assured us that the virtues of this drug had never been fully told, and that the reason of the low esteem in which many hold it is mainly due to the importation of such immense quantities of the worthless varieties. His accounts of his trips to Honduras and his business excursions along the Gulf of Dulce and the rivers of Montagua and Santiago and among the adjacent mountains were of intense interest. We can but commend and honor his employers for the faithfulness and energy with which they execute their trust as ministers to the public health, and we suspect that this course is at least one of the reasons why their medicines are held in such extraordinary favor throughout the civilized world.

ANCIENT JERUSALEM.

A LARGE AND BEAUTIFUL ISOMETRICAL PICTURE OF JERUSALEM AND THE SACRED PLACES SURROUNDING THE HOLY CITY, AS THEY APPEARED IN ANCIENT TIMES.

The above work is commended to the favorable notice of clergymen, and those having charge of Sunday-schools, Bible-classes, and public institutions.

It is about nine feet long and six feet wide, colored and varnished, and mounted on canvas with rollers.

It has been constructed frem the most reliable authentic sources, and will be found an invaluable aid to those engaged in lecturing on the Holy Land, or in imparting instruction to school classes on the subject to which it refers.

It aims to give an exact idea of the city as it appeared in ancient times. It is taken as a "birds eye" or "balloon" view, the beholder being, in imagination, placed at a considerable elevation, so as to take a comprehensive view of the city and of the whole country for some distance around.

The View is accompanied with an Outline Key, in which the different localities are numbered, and and a Descriptive Manual containing all the information necessary to enable one to use the View to advantage in teaching or lecturing.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL TIMES

This is a Weekly Religious Paper, published at the very low price of

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

It is designed for PARENTS, TEACHERS, and all who are engaged or interested in the religious training of the young. It is also an excellent FAMILY PAPER.

A portion of the Sunday-School Times is occupied with NARRATIVES and other matter particularly interesting to young persons. Teachers will find in it much that they will like to read to their classes—interesting matter prepared to their hands, and such as they cannot find elsewhere. For the same reasons, members of Bible-classes, and the older schollars generally, will be greatly benefited by the perusal of this paper.

The Sunday-School Times has every week a report of the choicest matter, selected from the NOON PRAYER-MEETINGS, which are so interesting to all classes of Christians.

Besides a large amount of general religious intelligence, the Sunday-School Times contains all the most recent Sunday-school news. It reports all the important CONVENTIONS of Sunday-school teachers. It discusses the questions which most interest and perplex teachers and parents, respecting the various methods of religious training for the young, the means of gaining the attention and the affections of children, and especially of securing their conversion and bringing them to Christ. The subject of Mission-Schools for cities, and of Sunday-school missionary work for the interior, is thoroughly canvassed. Indeed, there is hardly a topic of practical importance to any who are interested in the subject of religious education, which is not here brought under consideration from week to week.

The conductors of this paper endeavor to remember, that the great end of all Christian effort is to bring men to Christ. They aim, accordingly, to put into every number of the paper something which shall have for its direct object the conversion of souls.

LAST HOURS OF WEBSTER!

JUST ISSUED A
MAGNIFICENT ENGRAVING
REPRESENTING THE

LAST HOURS OF WEBSTER.

Executed in the finest style of art, and printed on heavy plate paper 25 by 30 inches, making a most appropriate ornament for the parlor, the library, or the office.

This superb engraving will be given to each purchaser of the work entitled

THE LIFE, SPEECHES AND MEMORIALS OF

DANIEL WEBSTER,

CONTAINING HIS MOST CELEBRATED ORATIONS AND HIS LIFE AND TIMES.

BY SAMUEL M. SMUCKER, LL.D.

THIS WORK CONTAINS HIS LAST GREAT SPEECH ON THE SLAVERY COMPROMISE.

In the U. S. Senate, and the Addresses delivered on the occasion of his death by

Rufus Choate, Edward Everett,
Geo. S. Hilliard, William H. Seward,
Lewis Cass, Jefferson Davis, Butler,

&c., &c., with the Funeral Obsequies at Marshfield; and all the prominent incidents of his Public and Private Life. The specimens of his massive oratory include the finest speeches.

In one large volume of 550 pages, printed on fine paper and bound in beautiful style; containing a full length steel portrait of Webster, believed to be the best ever taken of the great Statesman, as he was in the prime of manhood. Also, a great Statesman, as he was in the prime of manhood. Also,

A View of his Birthplace and Home at Marshfield. Price, $2.00; gilt, $2.50.

The engraving is one of the most beautiful and desirable ever issued. It represents Mr. Webster in his dying moments. His relatives and intimate friends, and several distinguished personages are grouped around his couch, eagerly listening to the last feeble words of the expiring statesman. They watch with intense interest his every movement. The artist represents the scene as inexpressively imposing and impressive.

The opportunity afforded to obtain this magnificent engraving without charge, will command the attention of every one. Our edition of the life of Webster has been published but a few months; without the aid of the engraving we have disposed of 10,000 copies, which is proof the work is wanted by the people.

This work will be sold only by subscription, and will be furnished to subscribers, including the Engraving, bound in handsomely embossed leather at $2.00; same style, gilt edges, $2 50 Sample copies sent by mail, post-paid, on recept of price.

Agents wanted in every county, to whom the largest commisgion will be paid. Full particulars of agency, with a complete catalogue of my publications, will be sent on application. Address,

JUDSON'S
Mountain Herb Pills.

ABOVE, we present you with a perfect likeness of Tezuco, a chief of a tribe of the strange Aztec Nation, that once ruled Mexico. You will find a full account of him and his people in our Pamphlets and Almanacs—to be had gratis, from the Agents for these Pills.

The Inventor and Manufacturer of "Judson's Mountain Herb Pills," has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited nearly every country in the world. He spent over six years among the Indians of the Rocky Mountains and of Mexico, and it was thus that the "MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS" were discovered. A very interestin account of his adventures there, you will find in our Almanac and Pamphlet.

It is an established fact, that all diseases arise from

IMPURE BLOOD!

The blood is the life! and when any foreign or unhealthy matter gets mixed with it, it is at once distributed to every organ of the body. Every nerve feels the poison, and all the vital organs quickly complain. The stomach will not digest the food perfectly. The liver ceases to secrete a sufficiency of bile. The action of the heart is weakened, and so the circulation is feeble. The lungs become clogged with the poisonous matter; hence, a cough—and all from a slight impurity at the fountain-head of life—the Blood! As if you had thrown some earth, for instance, in a pure spring, from which ran a tiny rivulet, in a few minutes the whole course of the stream becomes disturbed and discolored. As quickly does impure blood fly to every part, and leave its sting behind. All the passages become obstructed, and unless the obstruction is removed, the lamp of life soon dies out.

These pills not only purify the blood, but regenerate all the secretions of the body; they are, therefore, unrivalled as a

CURE FOR BILIOUS DISEASES,

Liver Complaint, Sick Headache, &c. This Anti-Bilious Medicine expels from the blood the hidden seeds of disease, and renders all the fluids and secretions pure and fluent, clearing and resuscitating the vital organs.

Pleasant indeed, is it to us, that we are able to place within your reach, a medicine like the "MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS," that will pass directly to the afflicted parts, through the blood and fluids of the body, and cause the sufferer to brighten with the flush of beauty and health.

Judson's Pills are the Best Remedy in existence for the following Complaints:

Bowel Complaints,	Debility,	Inward Weakness,
Coughs,	Fever and Ague,	Liver Complaints,
Colds,	Female Complaints,	Lowness of Spirits,
Chest Diseases,	Headaches,	Piles,
Costiveness,	Indigestion,	Stone and Gravel,
Dyspepsia,	Influenca,	Secondary Symptoms.
Diarrhœa,	Inflammation,
Dropsy,

GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE!

Females who value health, should never be without these Pills. They purify the blood, remove obstructions of all kinds, cleanse the skin of all pimples and blotches, and bring the rich color of health to the pale cheek.

☞ The Plants and Herbs of which these Pills are made, were discovered in a very surprising way among the Tezucans, a tribe of Aborigines in Mexico. Get the Almanac of our Agent, and you will read with delight, the very interesting account it contains of the "GREAT MEDICINE" of the Aztecs.

Observe.—The Mountain Herb Pills are put up in a Beautiful Wrapper. Each box contains 40 pills, and Retail at 25 cents per box. All genuine, have the signature of B. L. JUDSON & CO., on each box.

AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY.

GOLD AND SILVER WATCHES.

OFFICE JOHN A. STODDART, NO. 411 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PENN'A.

Attention is invited to the following statement and the accompanying testimonials in favor of these

CELEBRATED AMERICAN WATCHES,

A Gold Medal was awarded the Company by the Massachusetts Mechanical Association, 1856. A Gold Medal was also awarded them by the American Institute at New York, in 1857. The Company also received the First Premium—a Gold Medal—from the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, in 1858.

These Watches have now been in the market for nearly ten years, during which time they have been tested as to in every conceivable manner, and have proved themselves to be the most satisfactory time pieces ever offered to the public.

ACCURACY, DURABILITY AND RELIABILITY,

This result has been brought about by a strict application of mechanical science to the construction of the watch from its very inception, rendering it, when finished in all proportions, and necessarily as perfect a time keeper as it is possible to make.

MATHEMATICALLY CORRECT,

The Company have tested their Watches, in many instances, by actual daily noting, and the result of this test has been that they have exhibited a rate equal in regularity to the best marine chronometer.

N. B.—We have just introduced a elaborately finished, and thinner than any we have heretofore produced, with several improvements calculated to secure the greatest accuracy of performance, and to prevent the usual accidents and derangements to which foreign watches are liable.

NEW STYLE OF WATCH

Letter from Paul Morphy, the Celebrated Chess Player.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15, 1859.

Mr. R. E ROBBINS, Treas. Am. Watch Co.:

Dear Sir:—The American Watch, No. 9240, presented me by the New York Chess Club, proved to be a most reliable and accurate time-keeper—almost unnecessarily so for ordinary purposes. It is now nearly five months since it came into my possession, and during that period its variation from standard time has been but a trifle more than half a minute. The following is a record of its performance. It was set June 3d correctly:

June 15, fast 4 seconds.	Aug. 15, fast 18 seconds.
July 1, - 6 do	Sept. 1, - 23 do
- 15, - 10 do	- 15, - 28 do
Aug. 1, - 16 do	Oct. 1, - 32 do

I give you permission to make such use of this statement as you may think proper.

I am, with respect, yours truly,
PAUL MORPHY.

The following is from Mr. Porter, the well known Marine Chronometer and Watch Maker.

BOSTON, Sept. 28, 1859.

R. E. ROBBINS, Treas. Am. Watch Co.

Dear Sir:—I have sold during the last year a considerable number of Watches of the Waltham manufacture, and am happy to say that all of them without exception, have fulfilled my guaranty, and have given satisfaction to the purchasers.

GEORGE E. PORTER.

The following named gentlemen may be referred to in relation to these Watches.

Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, Maine, John G. Saxe, Vermont, N. P. Willis, N. Y., Hon. N. P. Banks, Massachusetts, A. L. Hamilton, Tennessee, James W. Simonton, Cal. Carlos D. Stuart, Long Island, Townsend Harris, Japan, Horace Greeley, Frank Leslie, Norman Wiard, Wis, Dr. J. Marion Sims, Charles Hammond, Phil'a., Prof. Bartlett, West Point, Dr. Ammi Brown, Boston, Lieut. Henry A. Wise, U. S. N., Col. W J. Harden, U. S. A., S. Ireneus Prime, D. D. White Plains, Col. T. B. Thorpe.

CAUTION.

As our Watch is now extensively counterfeited by foreign manufacturers, we have to inform the public that no Watch is of our production which is unaccompanied by a certificate of genuineness, bearing the number of the Watch, and signed by our Treasurer, R. E. Robbins, or by our predecessors, Appleton, Tracy & Co.

These Watches are for sale by Jewelers generally, and can be had on application to the undersigned.

DR MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC PREPARATION of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest medical authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaint Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fever Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reason familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating: and gently regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases.

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, emaciating and apparently malignant, the effects have been equall decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate Incipent Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory, in the latter, however, more decidedly, it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt happy and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills price 50 cents per box; for sale by druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address, on receipt of the price.

All letters, orders, etc., should be addresse to

BELLINGHAM'S CELEBRATED STIMULATING ONGUENT, FOR THE WHISKERS AND HAIR.

The subscribers take pleasure in announcing to the Citizens of the United States, that they have obtained the agency for, and are now enabled to offer to the American public, the above justly celebrated and world renowned article.

THE STIMULATING ONGUENT

Is prepared by DR. C. P. BELLINGHAM, an eminent physician of London, and is warranted to bring out a thick set of Whiskers or a Mustache, in from three to six weeks: This article is the only one of the kind used by the French, and in London and Paris it is in universal use.

It is a beautiful, economical, soothing, yet stimulating compound, acting as if by magic upon the roots, causing a beautiful growth of luxuriant hair. If applied to the scalp, it will cure baldness and cause to spring up in place of the bald spots a fine growth of new hair. Applied according to directions, it will turn red or towy hair dark, and restore gray hair to its original color, leaving it soft, smooth and flexible. The "Onguent" is an indispensable article in every gentleman's toilet, and after one week's use they would not for any consideration be without it.

The subscribers are the only Agents for the article in the United States, to whom all orders must be addressed.

Price One Dollar a box—for sale by all Druggists and Dealers, or a box of the "Onguent" (warranted to have the desired effect) will be sent to any who desire it by mail (direct) securely packed, on receipt of price and postage, $1.18. Apply to or address

ROHRER'S PRACTICAL CALCULATOR.—

A Book of Plain Rules and Calculations for Business Operation, By Martin M. Rohrer, Practical Surveyor and Conveyancer. New Edition, Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

This work contains 204 pages, and upwards of 500 Rules and Examples, entirely and thoroughly practical, such as arise every day in the common pursuits of Business. It has already passed through a number of Editions in rapid succession, and is pronounced by all classes of business men to be the handiest book of reference, pertaining to calculations, that has ever been published.

Every example in the book is worked out in full and stated in a plain manner, so that when a parallie case arises, those referring to the work will find no difficulty in readily solving it; in a word, the general arrangement of the Calculator is so simple, that any one who knows how to add, subtract, multiply, or divide, can easily solve any ordinary example that arises in business, or arrive at the result of any estimate required.

The chief aim of the author has been to eschew theory and philosophy in figures, aiming only at facts and simplicity, believing that business men care little about spending time in discussing the philosophy of rules or the science of figures, deeming it sufficient for their purpose to be able at a moment, by reference, to arrive at the true result The calculator differs in this respect from all Arithmetics of the day, and kindred works—it is a key to practical business calculations—it is, in the hands of the business man, what the key to mathemrtical works is in the hands of the teacher in the school-room—it facilitates time and insures correctness.

THE WORK TREATS OF THE

Measurement of Land, of Lumber, of Brick and Brick work, of Stone and Stone Work, of Grain and Grain Bins, of Coal and Coal Bins, of Wood, of Solids, of Liquids, of Circular, of Square, or Irregular Vessels, of Cisterns and Vats, of Roofing, of Plasterers', Painters', Glaziers', Pavers', Plumbers, Paper Hangers', and Upholsters', Work. It treats of Currency and of Foreign and Domestic Exchange of the Decimal System, of Reduction and its extended application to Business, of Simple and compound Interest, and their entire application to Business transactions, with the laws and usages governing and regulating the same, together with numerous Commercial Forms—of Legal Tender, of Partial Payments on Notes, of Banking and Bank Discount of Equation of Payments and Partnership Accounts of Assessment of Taxes, of Weights and Measures, of Square and Cubic Measure, of the Square Root and its application to Business, of Surfaces, of Excavation, and of many other important practical matters not within the scope of an advertisement to mention.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the subjoined varieties of Disease:

Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully.

Yours, ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous attack of Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Eruptions by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhœa by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla: the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Jules Y. Getchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has not all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL TIMES

This is a Weekly Religious Paper, published at the very low price of

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

It is designed for PARENTS, TEACHERS, and all who are engaged or interested in the religious training of the young. It is also an excellent FAMILY PAPER.

A portion of the Sunday-School Times is occupied with NARRATIVES and other matter particularly interesting to young persons. Teachers will find in it much that they will like to read to their classes—interesting matter prepared to their hands, and such as they cannot find elsewhere. For the same reasons, members of Bible-classes, and the older scholars generally, will be greatly benefitted by the perusal of this paper.

The Sunday-School Times has every week a report of the choicest matter, selected from the NOON PRAYER-MEETINGS, which are so interesting to all classes of Christians.

Besides a large amount of general religious intelligence, the Sunday-School Times contains all the most recent Sunday-school news. It reports all the important CONVENTIONS of Sunday-school teachers. It discusses the questions which most interest and perplex teachers and parents, respecting the various methods of religious training for the young, the means of gaining the attention and the affections of children, and especially of securing their conversion and bringing them to Christ.
